Presentations

Audience Participation

Sheila Bussey, 5406 - 79th Avenue NE, distributed a letter and discussed concerns related to bee hives and the raising of honeybees in her neighbor's yard. She is highly allergic to bee stings and lives in fear of the bees that swarm like a dark cloud several times a week. She has had anxiety issues related to the bees and feels like a prisoner inside her own home. She has complained to Police and Planning and since there is no ordinance for bees or restrictions regarding hives, she can't get any assistance. She requested that there be some language added to the Nuisance Chapter of the Code to address bees.

CAO Hirashima noted that there are numerous people in the City who raise bees, and there are not currently any restrictions regarding that. Ms. Bussey recommended that there be a limit as to how many bees people can have.

Mayor Nehring recommended having staff take a look at this and review other cities' codes to see how they handle this. CAO Hirashima indicated they could do this.

Councilmember Vaughan agreed that staff should look into this.

Councilmember Seibert asked if anyone from Code Enforcement had been out to look at this. CAO Hirashima wasn't aware of anyone, but reiterated that the City has no code regarding this. She offered to take a look at other communities' codes to see how this is handled. Councilmember Seibert also thought that staff should take a look at the situation just to have a clear idea of what the issues are. Ms. Bussey commented that she begged code enforcement and police to come out to take a look, but they said there was nothing they could do about it because since there is no code.

Councilmember Muller asked to see the pictures of the bees swarming. Ms. Bussey distributed those photos to staff. Councilmember Muller asked if there have been any incidents regarding children and bee stings. She stated that she wasn't aware of any.

Councilmember Vaughan commented that there are different reasons people raise bees, not just for the honey. It sounded to him like there was some honey production operation going on in her neighbor's backyard.

- He commended staff for all the work they did over the weekend at various events.

Grant Weed stated the need for an Executive Session to discuss four pending litigation matters with no action expected and expected to last 15 minutes.

Gloria Hirashima gave a presentation regarding housing permit information that Snohomish County Tomorrow has been reviewing. CAO Hirashima reviewed the year 2010 in housing units permitted on a city-by-city basis where Marysville had quite a bit of activity. In 2011 and 2012 Marysville still had a high volume of residential permits relative to other cities. In 2013, Marysville had an even higher number of permits relative to other cities. In 2010-2013 Marysville had 1473 units permitted. The next closest city was Everett at 723. In 2010-2013 the total housing units permitted by city and unincorporated north Snohomish County. CAO Hirashima summarized that most of the development in the UGA has occurred in the unincorporated Snohomish County in the south and in Marysville in the north. She reviewed data showing the trend toward more multifamily development starting in 2011. In 2010 it was predominantly single family development, but by 2013 it was predominantly multifamily. There was discussion about the lot shortages in single family. CAO Hirashima reviewed the total UGA comparison of development in 2010-2013 by housing unit type. In the southwest area it was about 40% multifamily. Other UGA areas were about 75% single family. Marysville is much more similar to the southwest UGA area at about 40% multifamily. She stressed the Marysville has a very small Community Development department handling all of the permitting and applications.

Councilmember Muller asked CAO Hirashima if the City is coming up on the sunset of permit extensions. CAO Hirashima said they weren't because the state kept extending them at the state level. Muller asked about the number of lots that are undeveloped, but approved. CAO Hirashima replied that there are a lot of undeveloped, but approved preliminary plats. The City has been tracking available lots over the last several years ever since the recession started. When they first started in 2007 there were over 1000 available lots, but now the surplus is almost gone. There are currently about 50 single family lots ready to go and that is all. She commented that there may be a gap in single family activity that can even occur. There are a lot of plats approved, but the developers haven't moved to develop them.

Councilmember Vaughan pointed out that there was a drop-off with some of the neighbors such as Lake Stevens and Arlington in 2013. He wondered if this was because they ran out of lots. CAO Hirashima thought that was probably the case.

Councilmember Vaughan asked why Marysville hasn't seen much duplex growth. CAO Hirashima commented that this has never been a popular housing choice in Marysville. Councilmember Muller commented that one of the barriers to developing duplexes is the cost of the infrastructure.

Call on Councilmembers

Kamille Norton had no comments.

Steve Muller commented that there were 200 cars at the car show. It was extremely hot, but a very good show.

Rob Toyer had no comments.

Jeff Seibert said he also attended the car show and was shocked at how many cars there were. He agreed that it was very hot.

Jeff Vaughan asked if it was correct that any changes to the fireworks ordinance would have to be made a year in advance. City Attorney Weed affirmed this. Councilmember Vaughan stated he would be interested in taking a look at the ordinance and reviewing it again. Councilmember Seibert said he would also be interested in looking at it again. Councilmember Muller said he also would be interested in reviewing it again. Councilmember Vaughan said he would be interested in seeing what other cities have done and if it has worked. He thinks the police department should have an opportunity for input. He also thinks citizen input is very important. There was consensus to have staff bring back more information on this.
